PEOPLE'S PALACE OLD BOYS' BRUCE. This match was decided on Saturday last on the ground of the Queen's Abbey, Stratford, in very favourable weather. The boys was in a very wet condition, and so made the running very heavy. It was far beyond the advertised time, and the Professors, after much discussion and losing the toss, the Bruce's captain electing to play with the wind. The teams lined up as follows:—Bruce's forwards, E. Phillips (captain), T. Howell (backs), R. E. Langdon, A. Oughton (half-backs), E. Burton, H. Sh. and E. Newman (centre), A. Clement, W. Bissett (left), C. Logan (right), H. Logan, A. Dawkins (backs), J. Groom, S. Meyrick, F. Greayer (half-backs), N. McNeil Hamilton (left), E. Phillips (right), H. Mann, H. Talbot (left) (forwards). At 3.15 Newnman started the leather rolling for the Old Boys, which was followed by give and take play, the Bruce's forwards EMitch the ball well up in the Old Boys' territory for nearly five minutes from the start. Philips always being on the alert, and Newman and McNeil Hamilton in the opponents quarters, enabled the forwards to get a bit of the game, when, by some good passing, Skinner put in a fast shot which baffled Heath, and so scored the first goal for the Old Boys. On re-starting the sphere, Oughton kicked the ball to N. Logan, who took it up towards the Old Boys' goal. By some incorrect passing by the forwards the ball was sent behind. From the goal kick the ball was passed to the right wing, and Burton, obtaining possession about ten miles per hour to the left wing, Phillips and Newman away some days ago, and numerous applications are being made for more. They are to meet all helper on Saturday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock.

The social rooms and rink will be closed on Monday evening, but will be open as usual after Monday.

A CONSIDERABLE GLOWING has been going on in the American papers recently in consequence of the incoming of the new year, and some of the American papers have been spreading the rosy tints of those very remote times when the American Congress was in session, and the American population was in a more genial frame of mind than it is now. The glow of those remote times has been spread by a number of articles which have appeared in the American papers recently, and which have been written by some of the ablest and most prominent writers of that country. CHORUS

"The Sands of Dee"

THE CHOIR:

O, Mary, go and call the cattle home,

CHORUS

The western tide crept up along the sand,

Oh! is it weed, or fish, or floating hair?

A drowned maiden's hair,

A tress of golden hair,

The cruel crawling foam.

They rowed her in across the rolling foam,

But still the boatmen hear her call the

SONG

O down they

With hope and faith in the faithless sea,

And little do they reck of me!

Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha!

The trembling maiden kneels alone,

The tears are in her eyes,

Down in a trice your ships shall go!

I chuckle and laugh, Ho! Ho!

And well may she weep when I'm abroad

Your tears and cries they comfort me!

Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha!

The storm fiend is the lord of woe!

Down in a trice ye bow and fall!

For who can stand when he hears my call?

"...F. E. Wealely.

While I chuckle and laugh, Ho! Ho!

Then in the night, when all the world is

Sad, tender eyes again in mine are shining,

Back comes the past in all its radiant

glory,

long since flown.

Of friends and joys I once

speaking of friends, and joys I once

heard, andjoys I once

have known.

Echoes of old and loving scenes of twilight.

Dreams from the past and memories
long since flown.

Voices by the wayside, voices in the leaves.

Floating thee, the garden, whispering
round the eaves.

Voices on the rove, voices everywhere,
Ever bringing back the past, and all
that was so fair.

Then in the night, when all the world is singing.

Still in my dream return those sounds
of old,

black comes the past in all its radiant soil.

Sigh, as of yore, the tale of love is told,
bad, tender emotions in memory

Loving hands and true once more in mine I hold.

Voices, loving voices, whisper through the years.

When the heart is happy, when the
heart has heats,

Stay with us for ever, voices of the past.

 Till, when all is over, we meet in heaven at last

F. E. Wealely.

She heard the bells at eventide
Down in the vale, the vale below,
With measured tread, with measured tread
She wandered down the mountain side

Such is true friendship faithful unto death.
Dying as only a soldier brave should die!
Firm and undaunted death the foeman
Fearless of danger, soon they'll meet the

Two comrades brave and true were they,
Fearless of danger, watching for the foe;

Whilst you express your jollity,

For here am I, and know thy thoughts within me,
Though never more on earth, those eyes
Thy face that shone in beauty never

I am coming my love to thee.

THE NEXT WAR.—Military critics seem to agree that the next European war, whenever it may break out, will be an extraordinary and dreadful affair. The war will be, as it was during the last war, conducted with a great loss of life in consequence of the increased knowledge on the subject. What the war will be like in its details is uncertain. Nevertheless, it is probable that the enemy will always be at least as well supplied with arms and ammunition as the Allies, and that the troops will be better trained and more efficient. The war will be a most terrible one, and will cause great suffering to the people of the countries involved. It will be a war of destruction and desolation, and will leave behind it a legacy of hatred and bitterness.
