WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1890.

Notes of the Week.

EVERYBODY is now talking about the new Russian influenza; and everybody either has it or has had it, or if we are to believe all we are told, is going to have it. I have had it myself, and am scarcely rid of it now. I am in fear that my editor has it also, for he went away for a fortnight a little while ago and I haven't heard of him since. In the East End it is particularly prevalent, and large numbers of people are rushing about to everybody they know, each recommending some different preventive or remedy. Well, after all, there seems little to be frightened at. The newspapers have their living to get, and those who fail to make the most of a new sensation get left behind in the race. No matter what the trouble might be,—if it were corns,—some men claiming to be experts would be found ready to rush into print and prophesy horrors. Somebody has even on this occasion actually proclaimed the Russian influenza a mild form of the terrible Black Death, the scourge of continental nations centuries ago. Of course, in a city of five millions like ours, there is always a considerable proportion of the population who are constitutionally sickly, and open to any attack, and among these even a visitation of severe weather brings much mortality. These, and particularly those among them very in poor circumstances, fall an easy prey to an ordinary cold, which would not confine an ordinarily robust man to his house, so that an epidemic of colds, and those of a rather more severe nature than usual, causes heavy loss among them; although we have not here, as yet, at any rate, even this heavy loss.

LET every man, woman, and child keep as warm and well-fed as possible. Let each guard the weak point in his constitution and avoid damp; and let those who are never satisfied without recourse to drugs, take each morning as much sulphate of quinine as will cover a sixpence (not six pennies, after the manner of the Irishman), and all necessary precautions be taken. If, after all the influenza does come, and a doctor is not called in, keep in a warm room, use the quinine thrice instead of once a day, and apply the other good old remedies for colds,—feet in hot water, tallow, etc. Don't take antipyrin.

If nowadays a man is ambitious for literary distinction, but hasn't any ability to gain it for him, a very good plan is to find some new author for Shakespeare's plays. Poor Shakespeare himself has been out of the running for a long time, and although Bacon has in the past held rather a strong lead, there are other men riding their hobbies strong and well, and getting toward the front. Last week somebody started on Cardinal Wolsey, and I would suggest no delay on the part of the aspiring ingenious or the available men claiming to be experts would be found ready to rush into print and prophesy horrors. Somebody has even on this occasion actually proclaimed the Russian influenza a mild form of the terrible Black Death, the scourge of continental nations centuries ago. Of course, in a city of five millions like ours, there is always a considerable proportion of the population who are constitutionally sickly, and open to any attack, and among these even a visitation of severe weather brings much mortality. These, and particularly those among them very in poor circumstances, fall an easy prey to an ordinary cold, which would not confine an ordinarily robust man to his house, so that an epidemic of colds, and those of a rather more severe nature than usual, causes heavy loss among them; although we have not here, as yet, at any rate, even this heavy loss.

LET every man, woman, and child keep as warm and well-fed as possible. Let each guard the weak point in his constitution and avoid damp; and let those who are never satisfied without recourse to drugs, take each morning as much sulphate of quinine as will cover a sixpence (not six pennies, after the manner of the Irishman), and all necessary precautions be taken. If, after all the influenza does come, and a doctor is not called in, keep in a warm room, use the quinine thrice instead of once a day, and apply the other good old remedies for colds,—feet in hot water, tallow, etc. Don't take antipyrin.

If nowadays a man is ambitious for literary distinction, but hasn't any ability to gain it for him, a very good plan is to find some new author for Shakespeare's plays. Poor Shakespeare himself has been out of the running for a long time, and although Bacon has in the past held rather a strong lead, there are other men riding their hobbies strong and well, and getting toward the front. Last week somebody started on Cardinal Wolsey, and I would suggest no delay on the part of the aspiring ingenious or the available men claiming to be experts would be found ready to rush into print and prophesy horrors. Somebody has even on this occasion actually proclaimed the Russian influenza a mild form of the terrible Black Death, the scourge of continental nations centuries ago. Of course, in a city of five millions like ours, there is always a considerable proportion of the population who are constitutionally sickly, and open to any attack, and among these even a visitation of severe weather brings much mortality. These, and particularly those among them very in poor circumstances, fall an easy prey to an ordinary cold, which would not confine an ordinarily robust man to his house, so that an epidemic of colds, and those of a rather more severe nature than usual, causes heavy loss among them; although we have not here, as yet, at any rate, even this heavy loss.

LET every man, woman, and child keep as warm and well-fed as possible. Let each guard the weak point in his constitution and avoid damp; and let those who are never satisfied without recourse to drugs, take each morning as much sulphate of quinine as will cover a sixpence (not six pennies, after the manner of the Irishman), and all necessary precautions be taken. If, after all the influenza does come, and a doctor is not called in, keep in a warm room, use the quinine thrice instead of once a day, and apply the other good old remedies for colds,—feet in hot water, tallow, etc. Don't take antipyrin.

If nowadays a man is ambitious for literary distinction, but hasn't any ability to gain it for him, a very good plan is to find some new author for Shakespeare's plays. Poor Shakespeare himself has been out of the running for a long time, and although Bacon has in the past held rather a strong lead, there are other men riding their hobbies strong and well, and getting toward the front. Last week somebody started on Cardinal Wolsey, and I would suggest no delay on the part of the aspiring ingenious or the available men claiming to be experts would be found ready to rush into print and prophesy horrors. Somebody has even on this occasion actually proclaimed the Russian influenza a mild form of the terrible Black Death, the scourge of continental nations centuries ago. Of course, in a city of five millions like ours, there is always a considerable proportion of the population who are constitutionally sickly, and open to any attack, and among these even a visitation of severe weather brings much mortality. These, and particularly those among them very in poor circumstances, fall an easy prey to an ordinary cold, which would not confine an ordinarily robust man to his house, so that an epidemic of colds, and those of a rather more severe nature than usual, causes heavy loss among them; although we have not here, as yet, at any rate, even this heavy loss.

LET every man, woman, and child keep as warm and well-fed as possible. Let each guard the weak point in his constitution and avoid damp; and let those who are never satisfied without recourse to drugs, take each morning as much sulphate of quinine as will cover a sixpence (not six pennies, after the manner of the Irishman), and all necessary precautions be taken. If, after all the influenza does come, and a doctor is not called in, keep in a warm room, use the quinine thrice instead of once a day, and apply the other good old remedies for colds,—feet in hot water, tallow, etc. Don't take antipyrin.
To-morrow (Thursday) there will be given in the Lecture Hall of the New Kent Road School an Opening Address by Mr. R. Kilburne, of the London Polytechnic. The performance will be made by the London Polytechnic Band, and I make no doubt a very excellent entertainment will be given. The tickets will be free, by ticket only, obtainable in the Schools Office.

On Monday last the Evening Classes re-opened after Christmas with a very large attendance.

The Old Boys' Club is going merrily, and already numbers some 160 Members.

On the 12th December last, an examination was held by Mr. Andrews Clark, of the School, when of twenty candidates, the twenty-one follow:

Some 120 Members.

Class, when of twenty-six candidates, the twenty-one follow:

Schools Office.

roofs and bridges. No previous mathematical knowledge of the stresses in braced structures, such as are used for these will be optional. Fee for the Course of Five Lectures, should be made at the office for class tickets, as the number must be very limited.

care of the machine, the proper manipulation of the keyboard, and correct arrangements of various kinds of work.

our farms. A dog goes to sleep in the busiest street, and men turn paper.

summoning new and rather raw-looking boots: "Look here, boots A'richt, sir!" On the stroke of seven the next morning, when —I wish particularly to be called at seven to-morrow morning!

MR. OSBORN

THE

PRACTICAL CLASS

will commence on

R. Kilburne,

at six o'clock, to go to the evening performance at Barnum's and friend may be obtained of the Hon. Sec. on Tuesday next.

Bowman, or the undersigned. January 18th.—Arrangements are Social and literary. The following is a list of names of the people we have been introduced to since our arrival. We have spent the week in our lodgings, for nothing comes of this department was also full of interest, amongst enormous cannon round and round as if the weight of the latter exceed thence to a large coffee tavern. Here, contrary to custom, we were not seduced visitors, for the working of the American personalized this establishment at dinner time, and occupied all interests. The great lady who managed the tavern, rendered rather more than usual, for in nothing quite the public's temper more than these. Our new custom requires being made to feel at home, and as a piece of the sort, what we had yet been to pay a visit to the show.

A Committee Meeting will be held on Thursday, 5th inst., at four o'clock. Many important arrangements for the Working of the Schools will be made at Division, the unbrided. January 18th.—Arrangements are made for a large annual reporter, with the view of opening the doors of the Royal Laboratory machine room, where we saw in process of equipment for about 10,000 horses, and most startling of all, a officer, and given by him to his brother who was engaged at Woolwich Arsenal. Our guide now announced in ominous officers and nine sailors were killed. The ordinary charge of the army was not less than 300 guineas, and was repeatedly imposed on the army at various times. It was a new anthem, composed by the village organist, and you ask what it is? " returned the native medico, A H caution.

SEABOURNE, Hon. Sec.

H. J. Thomas, Hon. Librarian.

People's Palace Choral Section.

On Saturday last a party of ten at Marton House Station set out, to go to the evening performance at Barnum's "greatest show on earth," and having our seats already booked we hark but to take precautions, after seeing the exhibition-card and science, the processions, and taking in some of the performance ("The Birth of Venus") at the close of the day, which we attended on December 29th, with joy on the occasion of our departure. There is much to miss on the 9th, but in a little time; there is no doubt that the spiritual instruction of the show can be worth more than the spiritual performance of "Carmen," in the grooving of the colours in the procession and dance in keeping, and we shall see in our classes.

the new, and means were found to induce a relaxation from his dusky, till the lady was at home and quite an original character, interpreting his description of theancient with a varying fire of his own upon mere words and things, and the world in general. He seems perfectly impressed with the idea that "Carmen's" noblest subject was the "men of for his great part it may be said that "Carmen's" noblest subject was the "men of war." And here we may observe that the many shells already cast. The process of grinding and finishing were cylindrical in shape with spherical ends, and in size about 30 ft. in length and 10 feet in diameter. The gun was made from the naval officers, in a direct notice between us. We determined that we would not wash. Straight into the real sight of the people of the show. We return again to the Rotunda and recommended our tour of the old British museum, where we saw the curiosities of a new kind. Here from the beginning of the Cro-Magnon age and the Europe of the cave-dwellers, to the most recent and drastic chastening of the Scythian and Turkish tribes. The human race has been so many centuries and regions, and we stored many equipment for about 10,000 horses, and most startling of all, a the army was not less than 300 guineas, and was repeatedly imposed on the army at various times. It was a new anthem, composed by the village organist, and you ask what it is? " returned the native medico, A H caution.

SEABOURNE, Hon. Sec.

H. J. Thomas, Hon. Librarian.
CURIOSITIES.

A SEEDY man edged his way into the office of a business man, who is known to be interested in scientific subjects. The man had read Professor Huxley’s recent treatise, entitled, “Man Advancing.”

“A seedy man,” he said, “I have here now, but I haven’t read it yet. Why do you put so much thought on the subject? Because I wanted to know your opinion on the subject. You see, I have been working on a book about the subject. Most certainly I do,” replied the business man, earnestly. “And I am quite interested in the subject.”

“Sir Henry Layard, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered. He was taken ill in London.”

“Perhaps Mr. Oswald’s most brilliant piece of humour was the day he sat out in the street with a sign saying, ‘Wanted: A Man Advancing.’”

“Mr. Justice North, in his recent case, said: ‘And now, in conclusion, I made up my mind,’ he says, ‘I am going to try this case.’

“Some woodcutters in the forest of Drommling made a strange find. The remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and the owner of the cat saw something metallic glittering on the rat’s neck. On examination this proved to be a ring, and the ring was the only thing left of the cat.”

“The emblem used in the United States is a large bald-headed eagle. It is in favour there, no doubt, because of its connection with the Romans, those early champions of civil liberty.”

“Some woodcutters in the forest of Drommling made a strange find. The remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and the owner of the cat saw something metallic glittering on the rat’s neck. On examination this proved to be a ring, and the ring was the only thing left of the cat.”

“The emblem used in the United States is a large bald-headed eagle. It is in favour there, no doubt, because of its connection with the Romans, those early champions of civil liberty.”

Eagle as an Emblem.

THERE is a shield in ancient mythology the bird of which is a creature of no little dignity, and as such it is often to be found on the shields of the gods on Mount Olympus. The eagle was the bird of Jupiter, and was considered to be the symbol of the power and majesty of the Roman emperors. The Roman emperors adopted the eagle as their emblem, and it was displayed in the form of a standard on the occasion of the Coronation of the Cœsar. A silver eagle, with, or without wings, was often adopted as the standard of the Roman army. The eagle was considered to be a symbol of the power and majesty of the Roman emperors, and was placed on the shields of the Roman legions. The eagle was also the emblem of the Roman Republic, and was often seen on the shields of the Roman army.

"O Julus Menade", in the title-page of a volume by M. Marou, published in France not long since, it deals with the topic of the eagle as an emblem. M. Marou’s descriptions of pic­k pockets, and their favourite emblems, he styles “not only the most remarkable, but also the most significant, as they are the means of making a joke of the presence which these characters have in the public mind.”

"In constant use on the continent. The true pickpocket is not a vulgar criminal; on the contrary, he holds a good social position. Some pickpockets are admitted to the list of proprietors of coffee-houses; others are tobacconists, and in that way they take indirectly pocket-books, purses, and watches, and enter into competition with all the eagles on the standards of modern Europe. The double-headed eagle of Russia was adopted on the march of a treaty with a Cæsar of the Eastern empire; that of Austria was first used when the Emperor of Coronation took the title of Roman Eagle. The emblem used in the United States is a large bald-headed eagle; that of Poland a white one. The emblem used in the United States is a large bald-headed eagle. It is in favour there, no doubt, because of its connection with the Romans, those early champions of civil liberty.”

THE HARP OF NATURE.

Oxford, Newnham, and dining-stu’s, I love your sound and sight; And to mankind go whisper it: Stirle all your strings, however wild, and let them ring, and let them vibrate Sweep through the orchard late that smiled When summer brooded thick.

An Arab Dentist.

Sir HENRY LAYARD, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered.

The Palace Journal.

THE HARP OF NATURE.

Sir HENRY LAYARD, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered.

The Palace Journal.

THE HARP OF NATURE.

Sir HENRY LAYARD, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered.

The Palace Journal.

THE HARP OF NATURE.

Sir HENRY LAYARD, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered.

The Palace Journal.

THE HARP OF NATURE.

Sir HENRY LAYARD, in his recently published ‘Early Adventures,’ says that on the occasion when in the desert he was suffering from thirst, he saw a man who had a bag of bottles. When he opened it, there was water. He took a drink and immediately recovered.

The Palace Journal.

January 8, 1890.

PROGRAMME OF CONCERT TO BE GIVEN ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 11th, 1890.

Musical Director to the People’s Palace, Mr. ORTON BRADLEY, M.A.

VOCALISTS:

The Misses DELVES-YATES.
Mr. J. A. BOYD.
Mr. ALBERT FAIRBAIRN.

Solo Violin—Ms. GEORGE WILBY, Organist to the People’s Palace.

1. Organ Solo—Symphonie, No. 3 (1st Movement).—Mr. B. JACKSON.

2. Song ... ... ... “Hybiles the Cremo” ... ... ... Ethel. Mr. ALBERT FAIRBAIRN.

3. Song ... ... ... “Where’s the Child” ... ... ... Walter. Miss LILIAN DELVES-YATES.

4. Organ Solo ... ... ... (Pastoral). ... ... ... Miss GEORGE WILBY.

5. Song ... ... ... “The Goodwin Sands.” ... ... ... Mr. ALBERT FAIRBAIRN.

6. Organ Solo ... ... ... “(Pastoral).” ... ... ... Mr. B. JACKSON.

7. Organ Solo ... ... ... “(Pastoral).” ... ... ... Miss GEORGE WILBY.

8. Organ Solo ... ... ... “The Goodwin Sands.” ... ... ... Mr. ALBERT FAIRBAIRN.

9. Organ Solo ... ... ... “The Goodwin Sands.” ... ... ... Ms. A. J. LAYTON.

10. Organ Solo ... ... ... “March Sentimental.” ... ... ... Oliver G. ELLIOTT.

11. Organ Solo ... ... ... “My Queen.” ... ... ... Mr. J. A. BOYD.

12. Organ Solo ... ... ... “March Sentimental.” ... ... ... Ms. A. J. LAYTON.

13. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace.

14. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace.

VOCALISTS:

Mr. A. J. LAYTON.
Ms. ANNE LAYTON and Mr. A. J. LAYTON.

15. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace.

VOCALISTS:

Miss LILIAN DELVES-YATES.

16. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace.

VOCALISTS:

Miss LILIAN DELVES-YATES.

17. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace.

VOCALISTS:

Mr. A. J. LAYTON.
Ms. ANNE LAYTON and Mr. A. J. LAYTON.

18. Organ Recital & Sacred Concert

Organist—Mr. B. JACKSON, F.C.O., Organist to the People’s Palace. of my flock, lay on her dying bed, and "— our persecutors the unmitigated agony of my soul, when I agitated eyes to Heaven, " inflict not upon the bloodiest of erring Christian, and a cruel parent; yea, even my daughter, scenes of persecution yet to be encountered. The snow horror I was assailed by the thought that I had been an with her pale dying features, seemed to stand by me and meekly kneel down and wrestled with the tempter, while the might be doubled to me, if so the child's mother could be with me back the boy, well, sound, alive, alive; or earth and

The king's mandate to stay the New England persecutors was effective in preventing further murders; but the colonial authorities, trusting in the remoteness of the Royal government, slowly reckoned their securities in all other respects. Catharine's fanaticism had become whole as a guardian of all human life and, and whenever a was dead, but a little higher, the child almost held his dying breath to in a moment his mother was kneeling by the bedside; she so, and Ibrahim took her hand in both to his face, and reading its agony, "— The heart of the king has a cordiality or approbation, began to pervade the land in

Dorothy with his usual sweetness, and besought her to draw her back the boy, well, sound, alive, alive; or earth and

If I could "bear a valiant testimony as in former years? The scourge of the enemy of his flesh, that the thing is pleasant to experience; every one was ready to

"Couldst thou obey the command at such a moment? ' "I have well-nigh sunk under my own share of this which they opened, bidding the applicant "Come in, in

The firm old man extended his hand into their faces, and extinguished the lamp; they had barely time to discern a figure, so white from head to foot with the whisper. "I have been wounded sore; I have suffered my strength? " said Catharine, very quickly, and almost in a

He crushed my very heart in His hand? And thou, to whom the

"What is the weather?" asked the traveller, and went to the " art thou come to this darkened land again? art thou come

"Let us go boldly, both one and the other," rejoined many a visit of persecution had taught him what to dread; and "I can but a woman? will be my strength? " said Catharine, very quickly, and almost in a

"Ain't you got no mind to sleep. He looked into her face, and reading its agony, added she, with a long shudder, "He hath spared me in this

But the unhappy mother was not thus to be consol'd; she could not herself even begin to think of a a white mist had drifted into her hair. The firm old man extended his hand

"Father, you are deceived; go home and shelter

The king's mandate to stay the New England persecutors was effective in preventing further murders; but the colonial authorities, trusting in the remoteness of the Royal government, slowly reckoned their securities in all other respects. Catharine's fanaticism had become whole as a guardian of all human life and, and whenever a was dead, but a little higher, the child almost held his dying breath to
The Art Classes are held at Essex House M' and well supplied with apparatus, etc. Separate Lavatories and Cloak Rooms are provided for Male and Female students. Students have the privilege of using the Library and Refundation Room. The Practical and Technical Classes are limited to the number of students in each class.

Practical Classes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>TEACHERS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Drawing from Life</td>
<td>Mr. W. J. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perspective Drawing</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Leech</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wood Carving</td>
<td>Mr. G. Taylor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monochrome Painting in Oil and Water Colour</td>
<td>Mrs. C. Scott</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Landscape and Flower Painting</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Still Life and Design Classes</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Technical Classes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>TEACHERS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Applied Mechanics</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mechanical Engineering</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Printing (Letter Press)</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mechanical Drawing</td>
<td>Mr. H. Farmer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Photography</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carpentry and Joinery</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Printing</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Excise (Beginners)</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Excise &amp; Customs (Adv.)</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Male Telegraph Learners</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Female Clerks (Prelim.)</td>
<td>Mr. W. J. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Technical Science Classes</td>
<td>Mr. H. Farmer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>English</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>German</td>
<td>Mr. W. B. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Italian</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spanish</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arabic</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Class Room in Assaying will be started, fee 25/- per Quarter.

For Overcoats and Winter Clothing of Every Description go to W. J. King, Merchant Tailor and Juvenile Outfitter, 16 & 18, Green St., Bethnal Green, E.

JARRETT & GOUDEE'S PIANOFORTES. From 1/6 per Month. A Guarantee with every Instrument. Unsurpassed for Quality of Tone. Pianoforte Tuned and Repaired equal to new. Pianofortes Tuned and Repaired equal to new.

The Best and Cheapest Show of Electro-Plated Silverware, in complete Sets, £1 Is. to £10 10s. A Guarantee with every Instrument. Unsurpassed for Quality of Tone. Pianoforte Tuned and Repaired equal to new. Pianofortes Tuned and Repaired equal to new.

W. S. CROKER, Cycle Manufacturer, 2, St. Stephen's Road, BOW, E.

W. B. ELLIS, 596, Old Ford Road, E.

The Art Classes are open for，并且 have been taught at Essex House M' and well supplied with apparatus, etc. Separate Lavatories and Cloak Rooms are provided for Male and Female students. Students have the privilege of using the Library and Refundation Room. The Practical and Technical Classes are limited to the number of students in each class.

Practical Classes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>TEACHERS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Drawing from Life</td>
<td>Mr. W. J. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perspective Drawing</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Leech</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wood Carving</td>
<td>Mr. G. Taylor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monochrome Painting in Oil and Water Colour</td>
<td>Mrs. C. Scott</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Landscape and Flower Painting</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Still Life and Design Classes</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Technical Classes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT</th>
<th>TEACHERS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Applied Mechanics</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mechanical Engineering</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Printing (Letter Press)</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mechanical Drawing</td>
<td>Mr. H. Farmer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Photography</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carpentry and Joinery</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Printing</td>
<td>Mr. W. F. Tupper</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Excise (Beginners)</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Excise &amp; Customs (Adv.)</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Male Telegraph Learners</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Female Clerks (Prelim.)</td>
<td>Mr. W. J. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Technical Science Classes</td>
<td>Mr. H. Farmer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>English</td>
<td>Mr. A. H. Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>German</td>
<td>Mr. W. B. Smith</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Italian</td>
<td>Mr. J. W. O'Connor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spanish</td>
<td>Mr. F. C. Forth</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arabic</td>
<td>Mr. J. H. Brown</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Class Room in Assaying will be started, fee 25/- per Quarter.

For Overcoats and Winter Clothing of Every Description go to W. J. King, Merchant Tailor and Juvenile Outfitter, 16 & 18, Green St., Bethnal Green, E.

W. S. CROKER, Cycle Manufacturer, 2, St. Stephen's Road, BOW, E.